CHARACTER	BRIEF BIO	SUGGESTED ATTIRE
COLTON STEELE Music Producer Influencer *REQUIRED Male	Colton Steele had a slow journey amassing followers on social media through live music production on streaming apps. But Colt reached legendary status after locking aspiring influencers in one of his content houses by promising to collaborate with them. However, he wasn't even in the same town – and Colton's sneaky live feed of the chaos inside the content house sealed the deal, making him a legend as far as influencers go. However, don't turn your back on Colt - he should not be trusted.	Wild track suit (i.e., neon, colorful print, etc.) with chains, oversized headphones, expensive-looking jewelry, and a watch.
NOVA VALE Recording Artist Film Superstar *REQUIRED Female	Nova Vale is one of the most stunning stars to ever slide designer kicks onto a red carpet. Nova's talents range from her angelic voice to her ability to slay the lead role in a movie about a female serial killer. Nova's a published poet, an aspiring physicist, and a former racecar driver. On a personal level, she's the catty rival of Luna Valera, and will do absolutely anything to get under Luna's skin. However, Nova herself is easily offended.	Sequined gown or other Hollywood glam attire. Hair is on-point, makeup is timeless/classy, and wear statement jewelry.
TARGON FATEEGO Film Superstar *REQUIRED Flex	Targon Fateego is a brazen silver-screen star and one of the most competitive people you'll ever meet. Targon would rather compete in a sprint challenge than chill and relax with friends. With endless energy salted with bouts of paranoia, there is one thing that is for certain – you'll never be bored around Targon.	A designer-looking tracksuit and statement sneakers. You must always be ready for any challenge. Aluminum foil hat prop if you wish to lean into the paranoia storyline.
DR. YAWNIE TV Superstar *REQUIRED Flex	Dr. Yawnie is the main character on the epic science-themed show that's fun for all ages, Dr. Yawnie's Science Expo . The show is in its 8th season with no signs of stopping anytime soon, as the doc just signed another 5-year contract. Dr. Yawnie has learned to trust no one and is even quite suspicious of everyone's intentions. The doc can be a bit dramatic at times, and always interjects how science relates to any situation.	Even though Dr. Yawnie is a puppet character, you still like to dress up like a mad scientist.
TRACEY EGG TV Superstar Optional Flex	With overconfidence spilling from every pore, Tracey Egg is a television superstar that everyone knows and loves. Tracey has played one of the lead roles on the hit show Velvet Ashes for all ten seasons. Tracey is always looking for an angle to get ahead, however, and has been known to hold a grudge. For years. Possibly decades.	Tracey's character on Velvet Ashes is a young detective, so wear a Sherlock-inspired costume.
JESSE CACKLES TV Superstar Optional Flex	Jesse Cackles is the fiery star who lights up the television show Creeps Come Out at Night . Jesse has an eerie persona and a laugh that will send chills down your spine. This star has a peculiar habit of keeping notes on everyone, but why? Nobody knows. The press has speculated it is Jesse's burn book, so it's probably best that you keep your name out of it.	Wear a gothic, black suit, leather/pleather, or velvet if possible, with spiked boots. Hair is black, spiky, and Goth makeup.

REDD ANGST Hip-Hop Superstar Optional Flex	A staple of the hip-hop scene, Redd Angst is an icon of the music industry. A natural people-pleaser with a reputation for keeping everyone happy, Redd has one small problem: a compulsive gambling habit. In fact, Redd can't seem to go more than ten minutes without placing a bet. Word on the street is that Redd has already laid down wagers in Las Vegas on every single MegaStar award this year.	Outrageously expensive-looking suit, thick gold chain with huge diamond pendant, statement jewelry.
JACKIE STEEPMAN Rock Superstar Optional Flex	Jackie Steepman is the lead singer and bass guitar player for Nacho Average Rock Band. Jackie has a super-powerful voice and tends to speak extremely loudly. It's difficult for Jackie to use an inside voice. Jackie's a secretive person and isn't on social media very much, but when you get to know this rocker, you'll see that Jackie's charm will win you over.	You're a rock star, but a shy one. Wear rock n' roll attire, but not too over the top. So, holey jeans, black t-shirt, and a black metal cuff.

ASSIGNING CHARACTERS: The host assigns the character roles to the players. Do not ask your players to choose their character roles. This is far too much work, confusing, and nearly impossible for them to pick a separate character and fill the required player spots with the most dependable, outgoing people. Therefore, the host assigns character roles using the host character list from the main game (characters #1-16) and, if you are adding them (sold separately), the characters above in this pack (#17-24).

As with the main game host character list, each character, in the left-hand column, will say REQUIRED or 'Optional.' First, decide if you need to play the required characters in this pack. If yes, you'll change your game to a minimum of 12 players, so it's best to have at least 14 players in your group as a cushion to prevent dropping below 12. Or, if you have many players who are tentative, you should wait to assign the characters from this pack until you have solid RSVPs, and then, it's best to still have 2 or more players assigned to optional characters as a cushion.

So, if you are using characters #17-24, assign these four required characters to your most outgoing and dependable players, next to characters #1-8 of the main game, which are also required. Then, use the optional players from the main game (characters #9-16) and optional players in this pack (#21-24) in any combination or not at all—they are optional and do not have to be played. But again, before adding the required players from this pack, we do suggest having at least two assigned as optional. Optional players share the same materials and participation level but are not required for the storyline to play out or for the mystery to be solved. They are suspects, however. These players usually don't realize that their character is optional during play.

If you have time, sending a 'save the date' email/text/card at least a month before your party is great. That way, you can see if your intended date will work to have enough players. No time for that? No problem! Just text your closest invitees to confirm they can attend, so you can assign them to a required player.
